POSITIVE PARENTING

Positive parenting describes a set of parental behaviors that foster a child’s capacity to love, trust, explore and learn. The goal of positive parenting is to help parents guide their children’s healthy development in the context of the family’s culture. Key elements of positive parenting include the ability to:

* Understand or imagine the child’s point of view, especially during challenging moments.

* Respond with interest and sensitivity to the child’s cues.

* Recognize that parenting can be stressful and missteps are a natural part of childrearing.

* Recognize and celebrate the child’s strengths, abilities, and capacity to learn and develop.

* Provide consistent, age-appropriate guidelines and limits for child behavior.

* Work toward a balance of meeting parental needs and child needs.

* Delight in moments of connection with the child.

* Recognize and regulate their own feelings and behaviors before they respond to the child.

* Seek help, support or additional information on parenting when needed.

Come to learn about several STEAM demonstrations of how incorporating these concepts will build skills they can take through their future and bring home some ideas you can do at home.
Themed Playgroups

Thursday PAT playgroups are themed playgroups and last an hour and a half. Each month focuses on a different topic and activities and handouts are planned around that topic. Children are asked to participate in a more structured environment by having set times for greeting and goodbyes songs, free play, activities and snacks. Themed playgroup is a great way to introduce your toddler to some of the expectations of preschool.

December’s Theme is… “Hello – Goodbye”

January’s Theme is… “Parachute Popcorn”

February’s Theme is… “Boxes are Fun”

Winter Car Seat Safety Tips

From the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP)

Winter is a tricky time for car seats. As a general rule, bulky clothing, including winter coats & snowsuits, should NOT be worn underneath the harness of a car seat. In a car crash, fluffy padding immediately flattens out from the force. Leaving extra space under the harness. A child can then slip through the straps and be thrown from the seat.

* Store the carrier portion of infant seats inside the house when not in use.

* Get an early start. If you’re planning to head out the door with your baby in tow on winter mornings, you need an early start.

* Dress your child in layers. Start with close-fitting layers on the bottom, like tights, leggings, and long sleeved bodysuits. Then add pants and a warmer top, like a sweater or thermal-knit shirt. As a general rule of thumb, infants should wear one more layer than adults. If you have a hat and coat on, your infant will probably need a hat, coat, and blanket.

* Don’t forget hats, mittens, and socks or booties. These help keep kids warm without interfering with car seat straps.

* Tighten the straps of the car seat harness. If you can pinch the straps of the car seat harness, then it needs to be tightened to fit snugly against your child’s chest.

* Use a coat or blanket over the straps. You can add a blanket over the top of the harness straps or put your child’s winter coat on backwards (over the buckled harness straps) after he or she is buckled up. Keep in mind that the top layer should be removable so your baby doesn’t get too hot after the car warms up.

* Use a car seat cover ONLY if it does not have a layer under the baby. Nothing should ever go underneath your child’s body or between her body and the harness straps. Be sure to leave baby’s face uncovered to avoid trapped air and re-breathing.

* Pack an emergency bag for your car. Keep extra blankets, dry clothing, hats, and gloves, and non-perishable snacks in your car in case of an on-road emergency.

Note: The tips above are appropriate for all ages. In fact, wearing a puffy coat yourself with the seat belt is not a best practice because it adds space between your body and the seat belt.

LEAD POISONING – Understand this serious health risk

By the University of Pittsburgh Office of Child Development

Lead is a powerful poison. Exposure to lead is linked to problems ranging from irritability to brain damage and death, depending on the level of exposure.

Lead poisoning can affect anyone. But children are especially vulnerable. Their rapidly developing nervous systems are particularly sensitive to the effects of lead. About one out of every six children in the United States have levels of lead in their blood that are toxic.

Lead is found in paint, water, and soil. You should make sure that your home is free of lead-based paint and that the lead level in your drinking water is acceptably low. The risk of lead exposure is greater if you live in a home built before 1950.

To better protect your child and family it is important to understand the basics of lead exposure and what you can do to limit exposure.

KanCare: 1-800-792-4884   www.kancare.ks.gov

What is KanCare? On January 1, 2013, Kansas Medicaid and HealthWave became KanCare. KanCare is the state of Kansas’ plan to improve services and manage Medicaid costs. There are three major programs for individuals and families who qualify:

- KanCare under the Medicaid Plan – The largest program, this covers people with limited income, which may include pregnant women, children, persons with disabilities and senior citizens.
- KanCare under the CHIP plan – This is the children’s Health Insurance Program. It covers children up to 19 years old who don’t qualify for Medicaid.
- MediKan – The only program that is funded entirely by state funds. It covers people who are trying to get Social Security disability benefits.

All medical assistance programs provide prescription drugs, mental health services and medical (doctor) coverage. Inpatient hospital, hearing, dental, and eyewear coverage is also included for most persons.

You may qualify for these programs if you are a Kansas resident and fall into one of these groups: children up to 19, including those in foster care or who get adoption support payments; pregnant women; persons who are blind or disabled by Social Security rules; persons 65 years or older; low income families with children; persons screened or diagnosed with breast or cervical cancer through Early Detection Works Program.
